DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Yamada et al. (US 6001203).

As to claims 1 and 2, Yamada et al. discloses a method of manufacturing a liquid crystal display panel, comprising the steps of:

Arranging a sealant on a main surface of at least one of two substrates to be bonded together;

Dropping a liquid crystal on one of said two substrates; and

Bonding said two substrates together; wherein

Art Unit: 1733

Said step of bonding includes the step of setting said sealant after said liquid crystal sandwiched between said two substrates is attached under compression (spread) to contact said sealant along a whole periphery of said sealant while both of said two substrates contact said sealant along the whole periphery of said sealant (figure 5, col. 4 lines 24-27 and col. 5 lines 13-25).

The liquid crystal is considered to be spread before the step of setting because the layer of liquid crystal (3) is continuous in Figure 5. In any event, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to include the step of spreading the liquid crystal in order to form an even layer.

As to claim 3, the sealant is an ultraviolet-setting sealant and said step of setting includes the step of irradiating said sealant with ultraviolet light (col. 4 lines 7-9).

As to claim 4, Yamada et al. further discloses a first curing step by ultraviolet rays and a second curing step by heating (col. 5 lines 1-25).
